About This School

The Bay School provides science-based education and clinical intervention services to children in grades K thru 12 diagnosed with autism, autism spectrum disorders, and/or developmental disabilities. The instructional approach is based on the principles of applied behavior analysis. Functional skills comprise the core of the curriculum with instructional emphasis on building skills in the following developmental domains: communication, social, cognitive, adaptive behavior, motor, vocational and leisure skills. Skills are systematically taught through highly structured one-to-one and small group instruction. Families are requested to participate in their children's program and implement teaching procedures at the home. Entrance criteria include a diagnosis of an autism spectrum disorder and/or developmental disability. Exit criteria include sufficient achievement of IEP goals and objectives for successful transition as determined by the IEP team. The school provides a full day, twelve month per year education.

School Accountability Report Card

Reported Using Data from the 2010–11 School Year

Published During 2011–12

Every school in California is required by state law to publish a School Accountability Report Card (SARC), by February 1 of each year. The SARC contains information about the condition and performance of each California public school.

- For more information about SARC requirements, see the California Department of Education (CDE) SARC Web page at <http://www.cde.ca.gov/ta/ac/sa/>.
- For additional information about the school, parents and community members should contact the school principal or the district office.

I. Data and Access

Ed-Data Partnership Web Site

Ed-Data is a partnership of the CDE, EdSource, and the Fiscal Crisis and Management Assistance Team (FCMAT) that provides extensive financial, demographic, and performance information about California's public kindergarten through grade twelve school districts and schools.

DataQuest

DataQuest is an online data tool located on the CDE DataQuest Web page at <http://dq.cde.ca.gov/dataquest/> that contains additional information about this school and comparisons of the school to the district, the county, and the state. Specifically, DataQuest is a dynamic system that provides reports for accountability (e.g., state Academic Performance Index [API], federal Adequate Yearly Progress [AYP]), test data, enrollment, high school graduates, dropouts, course enrollments, staffing, and data regarding English learners.

Internet Access

Internet access is available at public libraries and other locations that are publicly accessible (e.g., the California State Library). Access to the Internet at libraries and public locations is generally provided on a first-come, first-served basis. Other use restrictions may include the hours of operation, the length of time that a workstation may be used (depending on availability), the types of software programs available on a workstation, and the ability to print documents.

School Description and Mission Statement (School Year 2010–11)

The Bay School (TBS) is a 501(c)(3) nonprofit, nonpublic school founded in 1998 by parents of children with autism. The Bay School provides students with autism and related developmental disabilities ages five to twenty-one, comprehensive, extended year, educational and clinical services regardless of their race, national or ethnic origin, cultural heritage, political beliefs, age, gender, marital status or religion. Most recently, TBS has committed to opening a state-of-the-art prevocational/vocational training center for adolescents and young adults with autism and related developmental disabilities.

The Bay School's mission is to provide scientifically-based educational and clinical services that ensure long term social change for students with autism and related developmental disabilities. As a result, The Bay School utilizes procedures and methodologies that have peer-reviewed research supporting their effectiveness. The Bay School's education and treatment approach is based on the principles of applied behavior analysis (ABA), a methodology that applies principles of behavior to learning and is monitored by objective data measures to assess desired outcomes. Skills are systematically taught through individualized and small group teaching sessions. The defining characteristics of TBS's instructional program are the use of explicit and systematic instruction. These instructional strategies are used both in highly structured settings and in more natural settings, as a means of facilitating generalization and increasing the motivation of students with autism.

The Bay School's curriculum is scientifically-based, communication focused, developmentally appropriate, and transition oriented. The ultimate goal for each student is to develop functional, "real world" skills that will enable the student to live more independently and productively. For each student, an Individualized Education Plan (IEP) or Individualized Transition Plan (ITP) is developed annually. This plan contains an analysis of the student's primary presenting problems and constitutes an approach to remediating skill deficits and behavioral excesses. The treatment objectives included in the IEP/ITP are generally stated in terms of Annual Goals which are broken down into specific Objectives. These quarterly objectives constitute much of the student's day-to-day programming. All objectives are criteria-based and data is collected daily until the objective is met. Progress Reports are written quarterly to coincide with objectives. The plan is developed by TBS staff most familiar with the student through formal and informal assessment tools, with input from the student's IEP/IFSP/ITP team members, and interviews with parents and caregivers. Plans are prepared and reviewed at regular intervals to ensure that each student's rights as a student and individual are protected in receiving the most effective, least restrictive treatment based on his/her specific needs.

IX. Student Performance

Standardized Testing and Reporting Program

The Standardized Testing and Reporting (STAR) Program consists of several key components, including:

- California Standards Tests (CSTs), which include English-language arts (ELA) and mathematics in grades two through eleven; science in grades five, eight, and nine through eleven; and history-social science in grades eight, and nine through eleven.
- California Modified Assessment (CMA), an alternate assessment that is based on modified achievement standards in ELA for grades three through eleven; mathematics for grades three through seven, Algebra I, and Geometry; and science in grades five and eight, and Life Science in grade ten. The CMA is designed to assess those students whose disabilities preclude them from achieving grade-level proficiency on an assessment of the California content standards with or without accommodations.
- California Alternate Performance Assessment (CAPA), includes ELA and mathematics in grades two through eleven, and science for grades five, eight, and ten. The CAPA is given to those students with significant cognitive disabilities whose disabilities prevent them from taking either the CSTs with accommodations or modifications or the CMA with accommodations.

The assessments under the STAR Program show how well students are doing in relation to the state content standards. On each of these assessments, student scores are reported as performance levels.

For detailed information regarding the STAR Program results for each grade and performance level, including the percent of students not tested, see the CDE STAR Results Web site at <http://star.cde.ca.gov>.

California High School Exit Examination

The California High School Exit Examination (CAHSEE) is primarily used as a graduation requirement. However, the grade ten results of this exam are also used to establish the percentages of students at three proficiency levels (not proficient, proficient, or advanced) in ELA and mathematics to compute AYP designations required by the federal ESEA, also known as NCLB.

For detailed information regarding CAHSEE results, see the CDE CAHSEE Web site at <http://cahsee.cde.ca.gov/>.

X. Accountability

Academic Performance Index

The Academic Performance Index (API) is an annual measure of state academic performance and progress of schools in California. API scores range from 200 to 1,000, with a statewide target of 800. For detailed information about the API, see the CDE API Web page at <http://www.cde.ca.gov/ta/ac/ap/>.

Academic Performance Index Ranks – Three-Year Comparison

This table displays the school's statewide and similar schools' API ranks. The statewide API rank ranges from 1 to 10. A statewide rank of 1 means that the school has an API score in the lowest ten percent of all schools in the state, while a statewide rank of 10 means that the school has an API score in the highest ten percent of all schools in the state.

The similar schools API rank reflects how a school compares to 100 statistically matched "similar schools." A similar schools rank of 1 means that the school's academic performance is comparable to the lowest performing ten schools of the 100 similar schools, while a similar schools rank of 10 means that the school's academic performance is better than at least 90 of the 100 similar schools.

Academic Performance Index Growth by Student Group – 2011 Growth API Comparison

This table displays, by student group, the number of students included in the API and the 2011 Growth API at the school, LEA, and state level.

Adequate Yearly Progress

The federal ESEA requires that all schools and districts meet the following Adequate Yearly Progress (AYP) criteria:

- Participation rate on the state's standards-based assessments in ELA and mathematics
- Percent proficient on the state's standards-based assessments in ELA and mathematics
- API as an additional indicator
- Graduation rate (for secondary schools)

For detailed information about AYP, including participation rates and percent proficient results by student group, see the CDE AYP Web page at <http://www.cde.ca.gov/ta/ac/ay/>.

Federal Intervention Program (School Year 2011–12)

Schools and districts receiving federal Title I funding enter Program Improvement (PI) if they do not make AYP for two consecutive years in the same content area (ELA or mathematics) or on the same indicator (API or graduation rate). After entering PI, schools and districts advance to the next level of intervention with each additional year that they do not make AYP. For detailed information about PI identification, see the CDE PI Status Determinations Web page: <http://www.cde.ca.gov/ta/ac/ay/tidetermine.asp>.

XI. School Completion and Postsecondary Preparation

Admission Requirements for California's Public Universities

University of California

Admission requirements for the University of California (UC) follow guidelines set forth in the Master Plan, which requires that the top one-eighth of the state's high school graduates, as well as those transfer students who have successfully completed specified college course work, be eligible for admission to the UC. These requirements are designed to ensure that all eligible students are adequately prepared for University-level work.

For general admissions requirements, please visit the UC Admissions Information Web page at <http://www.universityofcalifornia.edu/admissions/>. (Outside source)

California State University

Eligibility for admission to the California State University (CSU) is determined by three factors:

- Specific high school courses
- Grades in specified courses and test scores
- Graduation from high school

Some campuses have higher standards for particular majors or students who live outside the local campus area. Because of the number of students who apply, a few campuses have higher standards (supplementary admission criteria) for all applicants. Most CSU campuses have local admission guarantee policies for students who graduate or transfer from high schools and colleges that are historically served by a CSU campus in that region. For admission, application, and fee information see the CSU Web page at <http://www.calstate.edu/admission/admission.shtml>. (Outside source)

Professional Development

This section provides information on the annual number of school days dedicated to staff development for the most recent three-year period.

The Bay School is committed to supporting the professional development of our staff which includes continual training opportunities (e.g., daily supervision, weekly meetings, and a minimum of 40 hrs of intensive training in the first 90 days of employment) and significant tuition reimbursement and funding for conference and workshop attendance.
